Data protection impact assessment and prior consultation with Commission

78. (1) Where having regard to its nature, scope, context and purposes, a type of processing, and in particular a type of processing using new technology, is likely to result in a high risk to the rights and freedoms of individuals, the controller that is proposing to carry out the processing shall conduct an assessment of the likely impact of the proposed processing operations on the protection of personal data (in this Part referred to as a “data protection impact assessment”) prior to carrying out the processing. 25 30

 - (ii) the compliance of the proposed processing with this Part.
- (5) The Commission shall, where it is of the view that the proposed processing would not comply with this Part, in particular where it is of the view that the controller has insufficiently identified or mitigated the potential risks to the rights and freedoms of individuals arising from the proposed processing, issue written advice in relation to the processing to the controller and, where applicable, any proposed processor. 20
- (6) Subject to subsection (8), where the Commission issues written advice pursuant to subsection (5), it shall do so within a period of 6 weeks from the date on which it receives the request under subsection (3). 25
- (7) For the purposes of responding to a request under subsection (3), the Commission may use any of its powers referred to in Chapter 4 of Part 6.
- (8) Where, taking into account the complexity of the proposed processing, the Commission is of the opinion that it requires additional time to consider a request made under subsection (3), it may, once only and within one month from the date of the receipt of the request, extend the time period referred to in subsection (6) by such further period not exceeding one month as it may specify by notice in writing to the controller concerned. 30
- (9) The Commission may, following consultation with the Minister, make regulations prescribing a type of processing for the purposes of subsection (3)(b) as a type of processing in relation to which a controller shall consult the Commission prior to commencing the processing. 35

- (ii) determine that subsection (2) applies in relation to the personal data breach.
- (7) A controller may, in relation to the exercise of the right of a data subject to be notified under subsection (1) of a personal data breach, restrict the exercise of the said right where to do so constitutes a necessary and proportionate measure in a democratic society, with due regard for the fundamental rights and legitimate interests of the data subject, for a purpose specified in section 89(2). 30
- (8) Where a controller restricts the exercise of the right of a data subject under subsection (7), subsections (5), (6) and (7) of section 89 shall apply in respect of the said restriction, with all necessary modifications.

- (3) When making a request under subsection (1), the individual making the request shall provide the controller with such information as the controller may reasonably require to satisfy itself of the identity of the individual and to locate any relevant personal data or information. 20
- (4) Where a controller has reasonable doubts as to the identity of an individual making a request under subsection (1) or reasonably requires additional information to locate any relevant personal data, it may request such additional information from the data subject as may be necessary to confirm his or her identity or to enable it to locate such personal data or information, as the case may be, and the period of time from the making of such a request for additional information until the request is complied with shall not be reckonable for the purposes of subsection (2). 25
- (5) Where, taking into account the complexity of a request made under subsection (1) and the number of such requests received by the controller, the controller is of the opinion that it requires additional time to consider the request, it may, once only and within one month from the date of the receipt of the request, extend the time period referred to in subsection (2) by such further period not exceeding 2 months as it may specify by notice in writing to the individual making the request. 30
- (6) A notice in writing referred to in subsection (5) shall include the reason for which the controller is of the opinion that it requires additional time to consider the request made under subsection (1). 35

- (10) Information provided pursuant to a request under subsection (1) may take account of any amendment of the personal data concerned made since the receipt of the request by the controller (being an amendment that would have been made irrespective of the receipt of the request) but not of any other amendment. 20
- (11) The obligations imposed by subparagraphs (iv) and (v) of subsection (1)(b) shall be complied with by supplying the data subject with a copy of the information concerned in permanent form unless—

 - (b) the data subject agrees otherwise.
- (12) Where a controller has previously complied with a request under subsection (1), the controller is not obliged to comply with a subsequent identical or similar request under that subsection by the same individual unless, in the opinion of the controller, a reasonable interval has elapsed between compliance with the previous request and the making of the current request. 30
- (13) In determining for the purposes of subsection (12) whether the reasonable interval specified in that subsection has elapsed, regard shall be had to the nature of the personal data, the purpose for which the personal data are processed and the frequency with which the personal data are altered. 35
